DETAILED ACTION

1. This Office Action is in response to Amendments and Remarks received 29 August 2005.

Per Applicant's request, claims 1, 15, and 25 have been amended. Claims 1-36 are pending.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Art Unit: 2191

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1, 15, and 25 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 19, and 37 of U.S. Patent No. 6,971,091.

Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other

Application 09 / 703527 recites the following limitations:

a) inserting yield points comprising code to be executed at distinguished locations of a program to be executed, each said yield point indicating a conditional sampling operation during execution of said program;

b) during program execution, unconditionally executing a yield point instance and, in response to executing said yield point instance, ascertaining a state of said execution environment for indicating whether the conditional sampling operation is to be performed; and,

c) when a state of said execution environment indicates a condition for performing said sampling operation, recording relevant information for characterizing behavior of said execution environment, whereby conditional sampling operations performed at unconditionally executed yield points occur at a subset of the executions of yield points.

US Patent 6,971,091 recites the following limitations:

-monitoring including obtaining raw profile data samples...

Art Unit: 2191

-identifying instances of yield point previously inserted...each yield point indicating a potential sampling operation during execution...

-determining a condition for performing a sampling operation of said executing program at an identified yield point instance;

-performing said sampling operation of said executing program upon satisfaction of said condition...whereby sampling operations performed at yield points occur at a subset of the execution of yield points...

Both Application 09 / 703527 and USPN 6,971,091 disclose yield points inserted into a program used for conditionally sampling during program execution.

Allowable Subject Matter

3. The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter:

Regarding independent claim 1, as Applicant has noted on page 11, last sentence through page 12, first paragraph, Burrows and other cited prior art, taken alone or in combination fail to disclose:

“inserting yield points comprising code to be executed at distinguished locations of a program to be executed, each said yield point indicating a condition sampling operation during execution of said program; during program execution unconditionally executing a yield point instance and, in response to executing said yield point instance, ascertaining a state of said execution environment of indicating whether the condition sampling operation is to be performed” and

“conditional sampling operations performed at unconditionally executed yield points occur at a subset of the executions of yield points.”

These limitations are similarly recited in all other independent claims, claims 15 and 25. Thus, all remaining dependent claims, claims 2-14, 16-24 and 26-36 disclose allowable subject matter.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee.

Such submissions should be clearly labeled “Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance.”

Conclusion

4. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant’s disclosure.
